I'm writing to you on behalf of the Rural Crime Partnership, a collaboration between West Oxfordshire, South Oxfordshire, the Vale of White Horse District Councils, and Thames Valley Police, focused on reducing Rural Crime and anti-social behaviour.

We are currently seeking feedback from those who live, work, or visit rural areas to better understand their experience of rural crime and identify priorities for future initiatives. We would appreciate your help in spreading the word.

How You Can Help

- Promote the Rural Crime Survey: Your support in sharing the survey through village noticeboards, newsletters, and local meetings would help us reach more community members. A set of posters has been posted to you and I am happy to provide more if needed (a copy of the poster and my contact details can be found at the end of this email).
- Host a Fly-Tipping Talk: Fly-tipping has already been identified as a key concern for rural communities. As part of the project we have invested in cameras and signage to help deter and catch offenders. Jack Graham from West Oxfordshire District Council's Environmental Services team is available to attend meetings and discuss how we can work together to tackle fly-tipping and other environmental issues.

If you would like to arrange a talk or can suggest places where we can display posters about the Rural Crime Survey, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Thank you for your continued support in making our rural areas safer.

Yours sincerely,
